Christ the Lord is Risen Again.

CHRIST the Lord is risen again : Christ hath broken every chain, Hark, angelic voices cry, Singing evermore on high.

Alleluia!

He, Who gave for us His life, Who for us endured the strife, Is our Paschal Lamb to-day; We too sing for joy, and say,

Alleluia!

He, Who bore all pain and loss Comfortless upon the Cross, Lives in glory now on high, Pleads for us and hears our cry;
Alleluia!

He, Who slumbered in the grave, Is exalted now to save; Now through Christendom it rings That the Lamb is King of kings.

Alleluia!

Now He bids us tell abroad How the lost may be restored. How the penitent forgiven, How we too may enter heaven.

Alleluia!

Thou, our Paschal Lamb indeed, Christ Thy ransomed people feed; Take our sins and guilt away, Let us sing by night and day

Alleluia! AMEN.

Quare fremuerunt gentes?

WHY do the heathen so furiously rage together? and why do the people imagine a vain thing?

The kings of the earth stand up, and the rulers take counsel together against the Lord, and against His Anointed:

Let us break their bonds asunder, and cast away their cords from us.

He that dwelleth in heaven shall laugh them to scorn; the Lord shall have them in derision.

Then shall He speak unto them in his wrath, and vex them in His sore displeasure.

Yet have I set my King upon my holy hill of Sion.

I will preach the law, whereof the LORD hath said unto me, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee.

Desire of Me, and I shall give thee the heathen for thine inheritance, and the utmost parts of the earth for thy possession.

Thou shalt bruise them with a rod of iron, and break them in pieces like a potter's vessel.

Be wise now therefore, O ye kings; be learned, ye that are judges of the earth.

Serve the Lord in fear, and rejoice unto Him with reverence.

Kiss the Son, lest He be angry, and so ye perish from the right way, if His wrath be kindled, yea but a little. Blessed are all they that put their trust in Him.

Gloria Patri, Gretorex.

Psalm lvii.

Miserere mei, Deus,

BE merciful unto me, O God, be merciful unto me; for my soul trusteth in Thee; and under the shadow of Thy wings shall be my refuge, until this tyranny be overpast.

I will call unto the most high God, even unto the God that shall perform the cause which I have in hand.

He shall send from heaven, and save me from the reproof of him that would eat me up.

God shall send forth His mercy and truth: my soul is among lions.

And I lie even among the children of men, that are set on fire, whose teeth are spears and arrows, and their tongue a sharp sword. Set up Thyself, O God, above the heavens; and Thy glory above all the earth.

They have laid a net for my feet, and pressed down my soul; they have digged a pit before me, and are fallen into the midst of it themselves.

My heart is fixed, O God, my heart is fixed; I will sing and give praise.

Awake up, my glory; awake, lute and harp: I myself will awake right early.

I will give thanks unto Thee, O Lord, among the people; and I will sing unto Thee among the nations.

For the greatness of Thy mercy reacheth unto the heavens, and Thy truth unto the clouds.

Set up Thyself, O God, above the heavens; and Thy glory above all the earth.

Gloria Patri.

Psalm exi.

Confitebor tibi.

I WILL give thanks unto the Lord with my whole heart, secretly among the faithful, and in the congregation.

The works of the Lord are great, sought out of all them that have pleasure therein.

His work is worthy to be praised and had in honor, and His righteousness endureth for ever.

The merciful and gracious Lord hath so done His marvelous works, that they ought to be had in remembrance.

He hath given meat unto them that fear him; He shall ever be mindful of his covenant. He hath showed His people the power of his works, that He may give them the heritage of the heathen.

The works of His hands are verity and judgment; all His commandments are true.

They stand fast for ever and ever, and are done in truth and equity.

He sent redemption unto His people; he hath commanded His covenant for ever; holy and reverend is His Name.

The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom; a good understanding have all they that do thereafter; the praise of it endureth for ever.

LIOW bright these glorious spirits shine! Whence all their white array? How came they to the blissful seats Of everlasting day? Lo, these are they from sufferings great, Who came to realms of light: And in the Blood of Christ have washed Those robes which shine so bright.

Now with triumphal palms they stand Before the throne on high, And serve the God they love amidst The glories of the sky. His presence fills each heart with joy, Tunes every mouth to sing; By day, by night, the sacred courts With glad Hosannas ring.

The Lamb which reigns upon the throne Shall o'er them still preside, Feed them with nourishment divine, And all their footsteps guide. 'Mong pastures green He'll lead His flock, Where living streams appear; And God the Lord from every eye Shall wipe off every tear. AMEN.

SANCTUS,

" Jesus met them, saying, 'All hail."

THE Day of Resurrection!
Earth, tell it out abroad!
The Passover of gladness,
The Passover of God!
From death to life eternal,
From this world to the sky,
Our Christ hath brought us over
With hymns of victory.

- 2. Our hearts be pure from evil,
  That we may see aright
  The Lord in rays eternal
  Of resurrection-light:
  And, listening to His accents,
  May hear so calm and plain,
  His own "All hail," and hearing
  May raise the victor strain.
- 3. Now let the heavens be joyful,
  Let earth her song begin,
  Let the round world keep triumph,
  And all that is therein;
  Invisible and visible,
  Their notes let all things blend,
  For Christ the Lord hath risen,
  Our Joy that hath no end. AMEN.

"The first-begotten of the dead."

OME see the place where Jesus lay, And hear angelic watchers say, "He lives, Who once was slain: Why seek the living 'midst the dead? Remember how the Saviour said That He would rise again."

- O joyful sound! O glorious hour, When by His own Almighty power He rose, and left the grave! Now let our songs His triumph tell, Who burst the bands of death and hell, And ever lives to save.
- The first-begotten of the dead,
   For us He rose, our glorious Head,
   Immortal life to bring;
   What though the saints like Him shall die,
   They share their Leader's victory,
   And triumph with their King.
- 4. No more they tremble at the grave, For Jesus will their spirits save, And raise their slumbering dust: O risen Lord, in Thee we live, To Thee our ransom'd souls we give, To Thee our bodies trust. AMEN.

GHRIST being raised from the dead, dieth no more; death hath no more dominion over Him.

For in that He died, He died unto sin once; but in that He liveth. He liveth unto God.

Likewise reckon ye also yourselves to be dead indeed unto sin, but alive unto God through Jesus Christ our Lord. Rom. vi. 9.

GHRIST is risen from the dead, and become the first fruits of them that slept.

For since by man came death, by man came also the resurrection of the dead.

For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive. I Cor. xv. 20. Gloria Patri.

Psalm ii.

Quare fremuerunt gentes?

WHY do the heathen so furiously rage together? and why do the people imagine a vain thing?

The kings of the earth stand up, and the rulers take counsel together against the Lord, and against His Anointed:

Let us break their bonds asunder, and cast away their cords from us.

He that dwelleth in heaven shall laugh them to scorn: the Lord shall have them in derision.

Then shall He speak unto them in His wrath, and vex them in His sore displeasure.

Yet have I set my King upon my holy hill of Zion.

I will preach the law, whereof the Lord hath said unto me, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee.

Desire of me, and I shall give thee the heathen for thine inheritance, and the utmost parts of the earth for thy possession.

Thou shalt bruise them with a rod of iron, and break them in pieces like a potter's vessel.

Be wise now therefore, O ye kings; be learned, ye that are judges of the earth.

Serve the Lord in fear, and rejoice unto Him with reverence.

Kiss the Son, lest He be angry, and so ye perish from the right way, if His wrath be kindled, yea but a little. Blessed are all they that put their trust in Him.

Gloria Patri.

GREGORIAN.

Psalm lvii.

Miserere mei, Deus.

E merciful unto me, O God, be merciful unto me; for my soul trusteth in Thee; and under the shadow of Thy wings shall be my refuge, until this tyranny be overpast.

I will call unto the most high God, even unto the God that shall perform the cause which I have in hand.

He shall send from heaven, and save me from the reproof of him that would eat me up.

God shall send forth His mercy and truth: my soul is among lions.

And I lie even among the children of men, that are set on fire, whose teeth are spears and arrows, and their tongue a sharp sword.

Set up Thyself, O God, above the heavens; and Thy glory above all the earth.

They have laid a net for my feet, and pressed down my soul; they have digged a pit before me, and are fallen into the midst of it themselves.

My heart is fixed, O God, my heart is fixed; I will sing and give praise.

Awake up, my glory; awake, lute and harp: I myself will awake right early.

I will give thanks unto Thee, O Lord, among the people; and I will sing unto Thee among the nations.

For the greatness of Thy mercy reacheth unto the heavens, and Thy truth unto the clouds.

Set up Thyself, O God, above the heavens; and Thy glory above all the earth.

Gloria Patri.

Psalm cxi.

Confitebor tibi.

WILL give thanks unto the Lord with my whole heart, secretly among the faithful, and in the congregation.

The works of the Lord are great, sought out of all them that have pleasure therein.

His work is worthy to be praised and had in honor, and His righteousness endureth for ever.

The merciful and gracious Lord hath so done His marvellous works, that they ought to be had in remembrance.

He hath given meat unto them that fear Him; He shall ever be mindful of His covenant.

He hath showed His people the power of His works, that He may give them the heritage of the heathen.

The works of His hands are verity and judgment; all His commandments are true.

They stand fast for ever and ever, and are done in truth and equity. He sent redemption unto His people; He hath commanded His covenant for ever; holy and reverend is His Name.

The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom; a good understanding have all they that do thereafter; the praise of it endureth for ever.

Christ the Lord is Risen Again.

Christ hath broken every chain, Hark, angelic voices cry, Singing evermore on high.

Alleluia!

He, Who gave for us His life, Who for us endured the strife, Is our Paschal Lamb to-day; We too sing for joy, and say,

Alleluia!

He, Who bore all pain and loss Comfortless upon the Cross, Lives in glory now on high, Pleads for us and hears our cry;

Alleluia!

He, Who slumbered in the grave,
Is exalted now to save;
Now through Christendom it rings
That the Lamb is King of kings.

Allelnia!

Now He bids us tell abroad How the lost may be restored, How the penitent forgiven, How we too may enter heaven.

Alleluia!

Thou, our Paschal Lamb indeed, Christ Thy ransomed people feed; Take our sins and guilt away, Let us sing by night and day

Alleluia! AMEN.

GHRIST the Lord is risen to-day,
Sons of men and angels say:
Raise your joys and triumphs high,
Sing, ye heavens; and earth, reply.
Love's redeeming work is done,
Fought the fight, the victory won:
Jesus' agony is o'er,
Darkness veils the earth no more.

Vain the stone, the watch, the seal, Christ hath burst the gates of hell; Death in vain forbids Him rise, Christ hath open'd Paradise.

Soar we now where Christ hath led, Following our exalted Head; Made like Him, like Him we rise; Ours the cross, the grave, the skies. AMEN.

This is the day which the Lord hath made; we will rejoice and be glad in it.

For now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the first fruits of them that slept.

Goodrich's Hymnal.

"Jesus met them, saying, 'All hail."

THE Day of Resurrection!
Earth, tell it out abroad;
The Passover of gladness,
The Passover of God.
From death to life eternal,
From this world to the sky,
Our Christ hath brought us over
With hymns of victory.

Our hearts be pure from evil,
That we may see aright
The Lord in rays eternal
Of resurrection-light:
And, listening to His accents,
May hear, so calm and plain,
His own "All hail," and hearing
May raise the victor strain.

Now let the heavens be joyful,
Let earth her song begin,
Let the round world keep triumph,
And all that is therein;
Invisible and visible,
Their notes let all things blend,
For Christ the Lord is risen,
Our Joy that hath no end. AMEN.

"Christ our Passover is sacrificed for us; therefore let us keep the feast."

Once the sa from Israel fled,
Ere it rolled o'er Egypt's dead.

Now our Passover is come,
Dimly shadow'd in the past,
And the very Paschal Lamb,
Christ the Lord, is slain at last.
Then with hearts and hands made meet,
Our unleaven'd bread we'll eat.

Blessed Victim sent from heaven,
Whom all angel hosts obey,
To Whose will all earth is given,
At Whose word hell shrinks away,
Thou hast conquer'd death's dread strife,
Thou hast brought us light and life. AMEN.

EASTER CHIMES.

Sweetly ring, glad Easter Chimes.
Heralds of life's glorious morn,
Telling to all coming times
Death is of its terrors shorn;
Myriads of the angel throng
Anthems to the Christ prolong.

Ring, sweet bells, of life divine, Coming in the Master's power, Bringing Heaven's own light to shine

Through the darkness of earth's hour;

Hail life's endless victory won, Death's last hour of triumph done.

Softly ring for souls that keep Vigil where some loved one lies; Christ shall waken them that sleep To the life that never dies; Lo, immortal life appears Conqueror o'er this vale of tears.

Ring, sweet bells, triumphant ring,
"Peace on earth, good-will to men;"

Hope to yearning mortals bring, Seeking life beyond their ken; May each swing of silvery bell Aye the marvelous tidings tell,

Sweetly ring, ye Easter Chimes, For your Christ-songs heavenward soar;

On their strains some frail soul climbs

Toward God's heart forevermore;
On that heart at last to rest
In His love supremely blest.

THREE GARDENS

A garden is a holy place, You feel God's presence there, 'Mid climbing roses, shady walks, And stately lilies fair.

In Eden, at the "cool of day"
God walked in holy peace,
And made of gardens quiet shrines,
Where cares and worries cease.

At midnight, in Gethsemane, Beneath an olive tree, Our Saviour prayed alone, and peace Came out of agony.

But happiest of all the three, That garden, Easter morn, Where Mary met the risen Christ, And earth's new hope was born.

Some Resurrection Questions

Where was Jesus buried? Name the women at the burial. What did the Jews request? What kind of guard did Pilate give them? On what day of the week was the resurrection? What effect did it have on the guard? Who came to the tomb early Sunday morning? What did these women find? What did the angel say? Who did the women first tell of the empty tomb? What two disciples ran to the tomb? Which woman saw Jesus first? What did Jesus say to her? What report did the guard make to the Jews? What was the priest's proposal? What report went out as to Jesus' resurrection?

These questions are meant primarily for the young, but all may find it a helpful Easter-tide exercise to look up the answers.

A Little Easter Allegory

In my home a few sprigs of ivy are growing. They were sent to me this winter from the ruins of Glastonbury Abbey in England, which is the site of the oldest Christian Church in Britain. It is my purpose to plant some of this ivy side by side with some from the ruins of the church in Jamestown, Virginia, which was the first of our churches in America.

Now consider the ivy from England. It was alive and growing a little while ago in the old land, then it was disconnected from that place and that life, shut up in a dark box, and sent on a journey across the sea; then after a time the box was opened in a new land, and there today it is alive and growing. It is the same ivy and it has the same life, though its place of living has been changed. Is it not somewhat like to that for us? We live in one place for awhile, then are severed from that life, only to find ourselves still alive in another place.

Of course, the analogy cannot be too closely pressed, but the main point, I hope, is clear, and that is that whether we are in one place or another, whether on earth or in heaven, we are alive, and being alive, have power of thinking and loving even forever.

There Is No Death

HERE is no death! The stars go down To rise upon some fairer shore; And bright in heaven's jewelled crown They shine for evermore. There is no death! The dust we tread Shall change beneath the summer shower To golden grain of mellow fruit, Or rainbow-tinted flower. The granite rocks disorganize To feed the hungry moss they bear; The forest leaves drink daily life From out the viewless air. There is no death! The leaves may fall, The flowers may fade and pass away: They only wait through wintry hours The coming of the May. There is no death! An angel form Walks o'er the earth with silent tread; He bears our best loved things away, And then we call them "dead". He leaves our hearts all desolate, He plucks our fairest, sweetest flowers; Transplanted into bliss, they now Adorn immortal bowers. The bird-like voice, whose joyous tones Made glad these scenes of sin and strife, Sings now an everlasting song Amid the tree of life. And where He sees a smile too bright, Or heart too pure for taint and vice, He bears it to that world of light, To dwell in Paradise. Born unto that undying life, They leave us but to come again; With joy we welcome them-the same, Except in sin and pain. And ever near us, though unseen, The dear immortal spirits tread; For all the boundless universe Is life-there are no dead.

AT EASTER TIME

The little flowers came through the ground, At Easter time, at Easter time, They raised their heads and looked around, At happy Easter time.

And every little bud did say, "Good people, bless this holy day," For "Christ is risen", the angels say, At happy Easter time.

'Twas long and long and long ago,
At Easter time, at Easter time,
And still the pure white lilies grow,
At happy Easter time.
And still each little flower doth say,
Good people, bless this holy day!
For "Christ is risen", the angels say,
At happy Easter time.

Easter Greetings from your Vicar

DEAR FRIENDS.

The fact of the resurrection breaks slowly upon us. Perhaps the full meaning of God's act in raising Jesus from the dead is never thoroughly understood or completely appreciated. Its Christian meaning is so often obscured in the lives of people by a multitude of lesser things.

Easter to us does have a joyful note, however, even though to some it means only a new outfit of clothing, or a release from a semi-conscious feeling that for a period of forty days we should be restraining ourselves from doing many of the usual round of pleasures. Whatever Easter does mean to us, there is the one outstanding note that can not be curbed. There is a joy, a hope, an assurance that this day is in some way different from all other days in the year. That we cannot deny.

And you are right in your feelings and understandings. Easter is a day of joy and gladness. The spirit in man is raised a little higher, and comes closer to God because of it, closer than it has at other times.

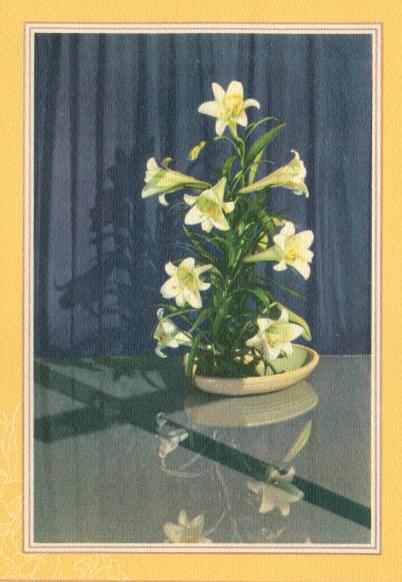

The women who went first to the sepulchre on the first Easter Day went there to anoint a dead body and were confronted by the fact of the resurrection. The Angel told them "He is risen; He is not here." They did not understand the complete significance of the fact, though they believed. We are told that they left the tomb afraid. It took time for them to see what this great event meant to them and to all men. But even in their fear, there was a joy and a hope and an assurance that God was with them.

Perhaps we are not much beyond the understanding of these women at that time. But Easter still is to those who look back on the great event, a day of joy and gladness,—a day of joy and gladness that can by faith and trust in God be ever increasingly made manifest to us.

My hope for you today is that this Easter finds you drawn a little closer to God through the fact of the resurrection. That your joy and gladness is assured by the fact that the Christ spirit lives in you and that you will spread that resurrection gladness through your lives.

Faithfully yours,

ELDEN B. MOWERS.

The Easter Message

N the early light of the first Easter dawn the Risen Christ gave the world the most glorious message it has ever received. It was a message for all those who were stricken with grief, whose hopes had died within their hearts, and whose courage had failed them in the hour of trial.

It was a message for those dark days when the hopes and aspirations of His followers were blasted by the horrors of the crucifixion and the apparent defeat of their Master. They had hoped that Jesus was He which should redeem Israel, but instead He had left them overwhelmed with disappointment and sorrow.

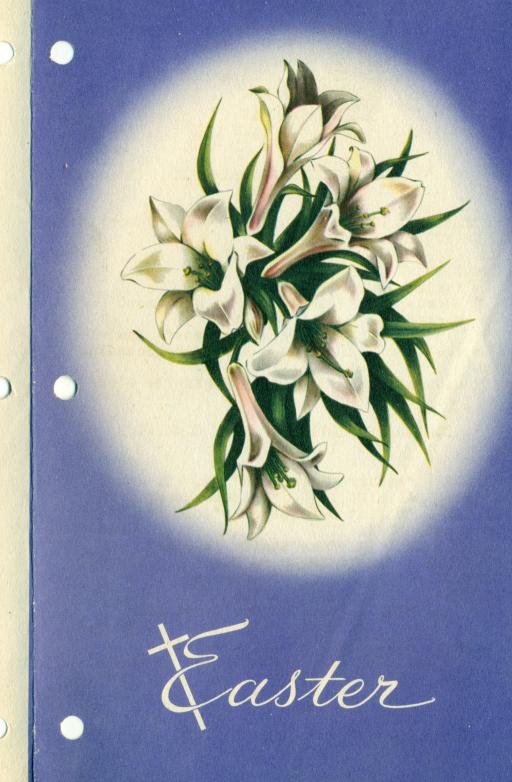

It is also a message that is sorely needed in these days. At this Eastertide the world is passing through another night of despair, brought about by the same forces of evil which caused that other night of blackness over nineteen hundred years ago.

Men and women, whose hearts have been broken by cruel circumstances, whose hopes have been blasted, whose courage has been destroyed, all are in dire need of hearing again this Easter message.

What is it? The most glorious word ever uttered to mankind: "He is not here! He is risen!" In these words hope is reborn, never to die again.

The Risen Christ still leads on, the King Eternal, going before His pilgrim hosts. He has sanctified death, suffering and sorrow. He is preparing a Place for all reconciled children of God from which war, sin, pain and sorrow shall be banished forever and forever.

Death is dead. The Lord Christ is risen. Such is the message of Easter.
